STATOTHR

1. Jay Sourwine, Staff Director of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, called to advise that the Subcommittee has arranged an appointment for a staff interview on Tuesday with [REDACTED]

STATOTHR

[REDACTED] contacted the Subcommittee and indicated that he had information on the status in the Caribbean area which he felt would be of interest to the Subcommittee members. Since a Subcommittee meeting is not feasible because of the Civil Rights debate, Sourwine has arranged a staff interview. He said that if we would like to have one of our people sit in on the interview anonymously he would be pleased to make the arrangements. He said he was extending the invitation merely as a matter of courtesy. This is being discussed with [REDACTED] WH Division.
